Let's Get Acquainted

by Ruby M. Compton

Jack Francis Moulton was born in Provo, Utah, a son of Geo. Francis and Vira Stubbs Moulton. He received his education in Heber City, UT and graduated from Wasatch High School in 1932.

He worked for Heber City Exchange, a large department store that used to occupy the corner of North Main and Center before it was torn down.

While still a very young man, Jack went to work for Sewells' United Groceries in Salt Lake City, UT. As time went by, he worked in 14 different stores; in Elko, and Reno, Nevada; Provo, Salt Lake and Portola, Calif. He returned to live in Utah on Christmas Eve of 1937 and started work at DeLuxe Glass Company.

LaVone Kunkel was the Secretary/Bookkeeper and Price Clerk at DeLuxe Glass Co. in Salt Lake, at the time Jack came to work for the company. She had started working there in 1936. She and Jack became friends and began dating. Before long Jack met LaVone's sister and her parents, Arthur Roy and Mattie Winkless Kunkel. LaVone was born and raised in Salt Lake. She graduated from South High School in 1934.

The following summer, she went to pay a visit to her Aunt Adel Cain, who lived in Minneapolis, Minnesota, but her Aunt became ill and LaVone stayed on to help her for two years. During this time, she attended Miller Evening School, an extension of the University of Minnesota.

When she returned to Salt Lake in into a smaller home nearer the shopping centers of town. When Jack was released from the Navy, they took the mustering out pay and bought a little building and moved it onto the back lot and started their own glass shop in Heber.

In 1947, Jack and his father, Francis Moulton, went into partnership and built a nice shop at 525 South Main. They had a nice business going, but his health declined and LaVone tried to help, but the work was more than she could manage. They built a Snack Bar just south of the glass shop and LaVone managed this, the business prospered as it was close to the elementary, junior high and high school. LaVone really enjoyed young people and they seemed to know this.

Jack's health forced them to retire in 1978. They have five children: Vaughn K. Moulton, was born in Salt Lake City, and married Karen Julander, of Daniels, in the Salt Lake LDS Temple. He graduated from Wasatch High School, and went on to graduate from BYU in Electronics.. They live in Woodscross, UT, and have two sons.

Sidney was born in Heber City. She married Dr. Roger Taylor, who is a Micro-biologist at the Disease Control Center for the Government, situated in Atlanta, Georgia where they live. They were married in the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City. They have seven children.
